The image shows the interior of a private jet cabin, specifically a 2006 Cessna Citation X. The cabin is viewed from the front, looking down a central aisle. On either side of the aisle are rows of cream-colored leather seats. Each seat has a seatbelt and a headrest. The seats are arranged in a 2-2 configuration. The cabin walls are light-colored with oval-shaped windows. Below the windows is a dark wood or black panel with integrated cup holders and control panels. The floor is covered in a grey carpet. At the end of the cabin, there is a dark wood door. The overall atmosphere is clean, modern, and luxurious.
